HAZEL GREEN, KY.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24, 1886.

LOCAL NEWS.

A cross-mark on your paper shows that your subscription has expired. If it is due, to either case you are respectfully requested to remit and renew your subscription at once.

W. O. Mize, enrolling clerk of the House, returned home last Wednesday. He will return to Frankfort this week.

Born—To the wife of Joseph M. Kash, on the 18th inst., a girl, and by the pleasant smiles on Joseph's face he must be happy.

L. C. Wells, representing the firm of W. H. Fullerton, of Chillicothe, Ohio, was here Saturday with a full line of sample hats.

A. T. Patrick, of Salsville, passed through town last Wednesday on his return from Mt. Sterling, where he had been with stock.

Ben. C. Stamper of Grassy, Morgan county, brought an office on last Saturday, a turnip weighing eight pounds. Whose can beat this?

G. H. Lacy surveyed the lot for the Methodist parsonage on last Thursday. Work has begun and the building will be pushed to an early completion.

E. A. Hurst, the young lawyer who had his leg accidentally broken at Louisville last October, has recently been removed to his father's on Stillwater.

John and Andrew Wilson, who live on Red river, have just completed a road 12 feet wide, from Rousseau to the Brummitt line, for which they with others deserve much praise.

Hon. Joe Gardner, of Salsville, passed through Hazel Green last Wednesday en route home from Georgia, where he has been for the last five months disposing of his horses and mules.

We have several new advertisements which appear this week and to which we invite the special attention of dealers and consumers. Each advertiser will next week receive special attention.

Mrs. Owen, widow of the late Rev. E. B. Owen, who has been living in Henry county since the death of her husband, arrived here with her children on last Thursday, and will live on her farm near town.

Agar's Cherry Pectoral possesses far-reaching and powerful healing qualities which its persistent use will demonstrate in any case of colds, coughs, throat or lung troubles, while its soothing and restorative effects are realized at once.

Capt. B. E. Roberts, representing the well known firm of Carter Bros. & Co., of Louisville, arrived at this place last Thursday, and after supplying all our merchants with dry goods, notions, etc., left for Stanton, Powell county, last Saturday.

The chances for success in life are much greater for the boy who has grown up on the farm, and the industrious habits formed and the fact that his evenings were spent at home are what gives him the stamina which enables him to win in the battles of life.

Prof. Carpenter will give one of his celebrated prestidigitation performances, on next Saturday night, micromancy, and other feats of interest to lovers of instruction. Prof. Carpenter is the man who was shot at Campden and he wants to pay his just debts. Go and patronize him.

Dr. Williamson has recently been doing some excellent work in this interest of THE HERALD and believes that a brighter day will dawn upon us if no misfortune befalls us. We are certainly under obligations to the doctor for whatever interest he may have manifested in our future success.

See the advertisement of Grossman, Gouyon & Co., saddlery and harness dealer, "Cincinnati," which appears in this paper to day. The merchants of this section know the firm well and are well pleased with dealings with the house. Give them a trial, and THE HERALD will guarantee good treatment.

J. T. & F. Day, bought of John A. Phelps last week a fine 3-year old bull weighing 1800 pounds, also of Asa Bean, 1-yearling bull which is considered the best ever brought to the mountains. Our farmers should follow this example and in a short time our county will be supplied with fine stock.

Gov. G. Evans of Campton, sends the following recipe for pickling pork: "Take one gallon of water to one-half gallon of salt, bring to a boil, stir well and then skim. Place meat in stone jar, and when brine is cool, cover the meat with brine and weight it down, and you will have a good time as long as your pork lasts."

Dr. Williamson preached at the Presbyterian church on last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights. His sermons were upon the subject of education as viewed from a scriptural standpoint, and were intended mainly for the encouragement and instruction of students, who are preparing themselves for future usefulness. They were quite interesting.

Lexington Observer: Senator and Mrs. Taulbee spent last Sunday with friends in this city. Mrs. Taulbee was fifty-four years old, the wife of a state senator and the mother of a congressman, before she saw a railroad locomotive. She is a quiet, courteous lady, with brain and nerve enough to stock half a dozen congressmen. Her friends hope enjoyed her visit very much.

[From the Frankfort Daily Capital.]
Hon. Drury S. Godsey.

No fear that his friends will not recognize in the above a splendid picture of Hon. Drury S. Godsey, representative from Montgomery, Powell, Wolfe and Menifee.

He was born Perry county, August 21, 1848. He is a farmer and hotel proprietor and is serving his first term in the legislature. He has been a justice of the peace but held no other offices. He served three years in the Confederate army under Morgan and Gen. John S. Williams. He is the grandson of the famous Jesse Combs, who was for 54 years clerk of the circuit and county courts of Perry county.

Mr. Godsey is a married man and a member of the Christian church. He is a member of the committees on enrollments, and morals and religion.

PERSONAL.

D. S. Godsey left for Frankfort Monday.

J. G. Trimble, of Mt. Sterling, is visiting relatives here.

S. H. Hurst and sister of Breathitt county, were in town yesterday.

Floyd Day left for Quicksand Saturday to look after his timber in that section.

Dr. John A. Taulbee, of Breathitt county, was in town Saturday and renewed his subscription to THE HERALD.

H. C. Henderson has accepted a position as clerk, with J. T. & F. Day. We regret very much to give Clay up, but the best of friends must sometimes part.

Court Day at Mt. Sterling.
[Mt. Sterling Gazette.]

The crowd in town was unusually large, and remarkably quiet and orderly. There was a big lot of cattle on the market, and a number were left unsold.

Cattle men report prices low, running from 3 to 21 cents. W. H. (Gateswood), auctioneer, reports about 800 or 900 cattle on the market, mostly inferior grade, and prices low. Good oxen brought from $30 to $110. Milch cows from $20 to $45.

A large number of horses were on the market. Good ones were in fair demand and brought good prices. A few good mules sold at fair prices.

A. T. Patrick, of Magoffin county, sold one saddle horse to J. C. Gillespie for $25; 13 3-year-old steers at $3.50; 15 2 and 3-year-old heifers at $17.50; 10 heifers and steers at $16.66. At McWilliams & Co.'s stable about 50 head of mules were on sale, about one-half of which were fancy yearlings. Broke mules sold from $100 to $165 per head, and while there was some activity in the market for large broke stock, the trade was slow for small mules. Messrs. German & Pace, of Covington, bought a car load of mules and horses at this stable. Horses sold from $85 to $150. W. O. Boyd, of Shelbyville, bought several fancy yearlings at from $125 to $150 per head. One fancy pair of mules sold for $350. H. G. Garrett, of Mercer, sold 4 mules from $70 to $95, and 4 horses from $45 to $100.

Best Patent Flour, Shipstuffs, Salt, Seeds, etc., for sale at S. S. GAITSKILL'S, Mt. Sterling.

His Last Notice.
There is perhaps no other sheriff in the state of Kentucky who would take his individual means and pay the taxes of his fellow-citizens, as Sheriff Center has done. Officers are not generally so clever as to step up to the auditor and say, "Here, sir, is the tax due from my county. My fellow-citizens are hard pressed for money, and I will pay their taxes for them in advance, believing they will pay me when called upon." This Sheriff Center has virtually done for the people of Wolfe county, and we do not believe there is a man within her borders who will not sufficiently appreciate the favor to respond promptly to his LAST CALL.

To the Tax-payers of Wolfe county: You are earnestly requested to be ready to pay your taxes on the next call. I think I have waited long enough, at least as long as I can. Would be glad if I were able to indulge you longer. I have paid your taxes for you, about three months ago, out of my own means in order to keep from pressing you, but the time has come when I am compelled to have the money or be pressed myself. I send this notice that you may all have the money by the time we call on you. If not I will be compelled to make it according to law. On all taxes not paid by the first of April I will be compelled to add the per cent. allowed by law.

G. T. CENTER,
Sheriff Wolfe county.

Cheering Words.
BUSHNELL, March 10.
Editor of THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD:
DEAR SIR: I never before gave one dollar for anything more freely than I give the one you will find enclosed, for one year's subscription to your paper. I prize THE HERALD as being the most valuable to me of any we take; it being my old native home. I am very proud to know that after many years, I have the pleasure of reading a paper published in a town, that my mind so often wanders back to. My mother, Caroline Swango, of Hazel Green, has been with us since Dec. 24th. I will say to her friends and relatives that read THE HERALD, her health is good; her weight is 110 pounds. She is not home sick. She will return to my mother's (Eveline O'Neil) the 15th inst. Success to THE HERALD.

ALICE FRAZIER.

Testimonial of the Craig Folding Incubator.
(See advertisement elsewhere.)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 17, 1885.

F. D. CRAIG:
DEAR SIR: I must write you what good luck I have had with your incubator. The number of eggs I put in the first time was 200 and I got out 197 chickens. The brooder I made from the plans in your catalogue is the finest thing for the young chicks I ever saw. Your incubator I know is the best one that is made. In fact they can't make them any better. I have been a barber for about ten years and am going to give it up now and go into the chicken business. I think that I will send for one larger than this one, shortly. The incubator is no trouble to run and works like a charm.

Our Children.

One of the live questions of the day is how shall we save our children from the paths of the destroyer. The aim of this article is to aid as far as may be possible in the solution of this most difficult problem. When God says to parents, "Take this child and nurse it for me and I will pay thee thy wages," we believe God meant just what he said—that the wages will correspond to the care of the nursing. "Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it." This statement must mean just what it says. Such a view is in accord with natural law. We reasonably and very naturally look for the reproduction of what we sow. The law of reproduction is as universal as the law of gravitation. "Whatever a man sows that shall he also reap." A different result would be most astounding. We do not gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles. And just what we find to be true in the natural world we find to be true in the moral world. Our lives will be reproduced. We will live them a second time in our children. But where shall we begin? The work of "training" and "nursing" must begin with us as parents. There is usually quite enough precept but there must be example, and such example as it will be safe to follow. This is the thought of God's Word. Speaking of Abraham God says, "For I know him that he will command his children and his household after him and they shall keep the way of the Lord." Every one should feel that whilst his influence over other men's hearts and character is very boundless, his power over his own heart is great and constant and that his zeal in overcoming evil is to appear chiefly in extending the graces of our holy Christianity through his own soul and home life. We should always remember that there is no way by which we can more effectually overcome the evil influences of sin and Satan than by inaugurating our own spiritual life.

Our first concern then is at home. Our chief work is in our own hearts. Not that we can change our own hearts or lives, but through God's help we may follow peace with all men and holiness. It is simply a waste of time to even talk of our anxiety for our children's safety if we neglect our own salvation. Without personal consecration we can not, even if we would, do much for our children.

It is only by purifying our own conceptions of Christ and duty that we can give clear and useful views of the religion of Christ to those around us. In other words, we must first feel the power of God's love in our own hearts before we can recommend it to others. And no busy concern for the heathen or the destitute in our own land and at our own doors should take us from the labor of self examination and the retired and silent offices of personal and domestic piety. Such a state of mind and heart will prepare us to set a godly example before our children. And this is a means within the reach of all. Be our station in life what it may, it has duties in performing which faithfully in the presence of our children, we give important aid to the cause of God and truth. Example has an insistent power attracting the observer without notice, attracting him without even the appearance of effort. At the close of one of Rogers G. Ingersoll's lectures on the "Mistakes of Moses" a young man was heard to say, "The colonel has met every argument in favor of the Christian religion save one which he did not touch." On being asked what that was he said, "My mother! I can not get away from the influence of her pure life in my presence!" The unholy lives of professing Christian parents are doing more to make skeptics and infidels than all the infidel books and lectures of all the centuries.

Children are imitative, they follow copy, and just about what the parents are the children will be also. Everything a parent does is noticed by the child. We are impressing our children favorably or unfavorably every day we live. Think of a parent who has been sowing the seeds of a bad life for twenty years expecting to reap a rich harvest of blessing! Such a result would be unnatural—it would be a miracle! It is possible to have a harvest of blessings if the sowing has been to the spirit. Parents should aim to have the love and confidence of their children. The Bible explains how this can be brought about: "Provoke not your children to wrath; forbear threatening; cease from anger, and it may be added, from angry words and angry demonstrations. Be cheerful and happy, and be entertaining in the home circle ever remembering that 'whatever a man sows that shall he also reap.'"

Our Resources.
[Licking Valley Scourer.]
The development of our resources in coal, iron and timber, is a matter of vast importance to the people of the Upper Licking Valley. It is a problem, in the presence of which all other questions ought to pale into insignificance. Our fathers, lured to this region by fondness for the chase, or the fascinations of pioneer life, have passed away, leaving us a magnificent heritage; one, if properly appreciated and properly utilized, would make us a happy, prosperous people. But how is it today with us? The crack of the ox driver's whip is echoed among the hills that ought to reverberate with the snort of the iron horse. The wheels of the wagon and truck bearing the scanty commerce of this section are dragged along valleys and over grounds where the arms of enterprise should lay steel rails and trains roll along freighted with the commerce of a world. Our mines could then give up their stores of wealth, and our vast resources could contribute to our progress to a higher civilization. God speed the time when the day will break in on the benighted minds of the moss-backs and fogies who retard our progress, and furnaces will be seen to send their silent signals skyward; our valleys ring with a hum of a busy industry, and the whistle of the steam engine make the sleeping echoes of our mountains as bears our products to the markets of the world.

The Mountain Monitor.
[Vanceburg Courier.]
That sprightly monitor of the mountains, THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD, has added new force to its makeup. Mr. Cooper has associated with him Mr. J. Miles Lytle, a prominent young gentleman of Wolfe county. Under Cooper's care THE HERALD was a power for good in Eastern Kentucky, and now that the capacity for work has been doubled, it is destined to occupy a wider field of usefulness. THE HERALD is doing more to develop Eastern Kentucky and encouraging its upbuilding than all the forces that have been exerted in that direction. Long may you live to herald its glories, gentlemen.

CORRESPONDENCE

MORGAN COUNTY.

WEST LIBERTY March, 20.—Work has at last begun on the long needed and long wished for school house. When completed it will be a most magnificent structure—being 62 ft. long, 28 ft. wide and 28 feet high, with two large rooms, four cloak rooms, two stairways, veranda, belfry, and spire 28 feet high. The building is to be completed by the first day of July next, and will be capable of holding 360 persons. We will want two first-class teachers, we take charge of it, and conduct a 10 month school every year. As one of the teachers, we would suggest Prof. N. B. Hayes, believing our people could do no better than to secure his services. Much of the honor and credit of this house is due to the energy and untiring efforts of our townsman Col. John P. Saylor to induce the people to build a school house.

We are exceedingly sorry to hear of little Esther Wilson leaving your town. Truly, Hazel Green has lost one of its pure gems. Esther is as bright a jewel as ever adorned any community.
